

Multiple Narrators

Bronx Masquerade by Grimes
Sacajawea by Bruchac
When Dad Killed Mom by Julius Lester
Zel by Donna Jo Napoli
Swallowing Stones by McDonald
Flipped by Van Draanen
Uncommon Faith by Trudy Krisher
Cupid by Julius Lester
Rimshots by Charles R Smith
How To Disappear by Sara Nickerson
Vegan Virgin Valentine by Carolyn Mackler
Criss Cross by Lynne Rae Perkins
Seed folks by Paul Fleischmann
Taking of Room 114 Mel Glenn
Girls by Amy Goldman Koss
East by Edith Pattou
It's My Life by Michael Harrison
Count Karlstein by Philip Pullman

Some authors like Fleischmann and Glenn write most if not all their works in multiple narrators.

Also think about books like:

You Read to Me, I'll Read to You series by Hoberman